Activities Slated Throughout Week

By Linda Mugridge

Spiritual Emphasis Week at Wartburg begins tomorrow.

Featuring Dr. William E. Hulme, of Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, and Dr. Elmer S. Hjortland, Oak Park, Ill., as speakers, this year's program opens at the campus worship service tomorrow at 9 a.m. It ends with chapel Friday.

The program, centered on the theme "A New Heart and a Right Spirit," includes a Thursday communion service, private and group consultations, receptions, special convocations and music for meditation in Danforth Chapel.

Life Has Rhythm

"A person's spiritual life has a kind of pulsation to it," said the Rev. Herman Diers, college chaplain. "If it is accented one week, it will fall into place the rest of the year."

Guest speaker Sunday through Tuesday is Dr. Hulme, Wartburg College chaplain from 1949-1956. He will speak on "The Courage to Be Christian" at tomorrow's 9 a.m. worship in Knights Gymnasium and on "Living with Myself" at Tuesday's convocation.

In addition, he will address meetings sponsored by the Lutheran Student Association and the Student Education Association Sunday and Monday nights.

Hjortland To ELC

Dr. Hjortland of the Evangelical Lutheran Church will be on campus Wednesday through Friday. He will speak on "The World Around Us and The Word Within Us" at the 10 a.m. convocations Wednesday and Thursday. He will also conduct the 7:30 p.m. communion service at St. Paul's Thursday.

Besides counseling in the student government offices in the Student Union, both speakers will meet with various organizations each noon in the small dining room. Both will conduct evening chapel services in the gymnasium.

Receptions Scheduled

All students are invited to attend the receptions for the speakers, according to Pastor Diers. Dr. Hulme will be honored Monday from 4:30-5:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Dr. Hjortland's reception is scheduled for Wednesday from 7:30-8:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

"The value of a week like this is dependent on the number of people who participate and the depth to which they participate," said Pastor Diers. "It calls for our involvement in prayer and anticipation."

Doing the basic planning for the week were Pastor Diers, senior Howard Schroeder, senior Janice Huggans and Dr. Lotus Knief of the Psychology Department. The program is financed by Wartburg's student congregation.

Five Attending Iowa SEA Meet

Four students and Dr. Herbert Max, head of the Education Department, are attending the Iowa State Education Association convention in Des Moines this weekend.

Representing Wartburg are seniors Deloris Rieck and Carolyn Krueger, sophomores Katherine Grimm and Kathryn Arns. Dr. Max is attending the convention as Bremer County delegate to the ISEA Delegate Assembly.

Miss Arns is one of 15 candidates for the state vice presidency. Official delegate from Wartburg is Miss Rieck, president of the local Student Education Association.

Choral Clinic Here Next Week

Some five hundred high school students will invade Wartburg for a Choral Festival Feb. 13.

Dr. Daniel Moe, director of choral activities at the University of Denver, will be the guest director of a mass choir. He will be assisted by the Wartburg music staff in the day's activities.

Eleven high schools will bring their mixed choruses to participate in the event, and each high school will have an individual session during the day with members of the music staff in the Fine Arts Center.

Mass choir rehearsals will be held in St. Paul's Parish Hall. College students may attend any of these sessions.

Dr. Moe is currently on a leave of absence for study at the University of Iowa, Iowa City. While there, he is directing the Chamber Singers.

He has published a number of choral anthems, which have been sung by the Wartburg Choir and the Castle Singers. Dr. Moe will also be on campus Feb. 12 to talk with music students.

High light of the choral festival includes a Wartburg Concert Hour to be presented by the Band, Choir and Castle Singers at 3:30 p.m. in Knights Gym.

Climaxing the festival will be a concert at 8 p.m. in the gym, in which each high school choir will sing one number, and the mass choir will present five varied selections. Wartburg students will be admitted to this concert with their activity tickets.

The eleven schools participating in the festival are Strawberry Point, Sumner, New Hampton, Charles City, Orange Township, Aplington, Denver, Rockford Consolidated, Dunkerton, Waverly and Plainfield.

Bill Bomhoff Joins Admissions' Staff As Counselor; Figures Indicate Record Enrollment For Fall Of '60

Bill Bomhoff, a '57 graduate of Wartburg, took over duties as admission's counselor this week.

He will assist admissions director Fred Thompson in selecting future Wartburg students.

An outstanding athlete during his college tenure, Bomhoff is Wartburg's only four-sport letterman. Since graduation he has been teaching school in South Dakota.

Thompson reports that admissions numbers are running, "about 30 per cent more than last year," when a record number of freshman students filled out registration cards.

At this time last year, 170 students had been admitted for the present term. Current figures show 222 in the fold and the number increasing rapidly.

EDITORIALS*Loan Is A Privilege

Legislators and educators from Maine to Oregon have been playing "hot potatoes" with section 1001 (f) of Title X of the National Defense Education Act since it was enacted in 1958.

This section is the much-bickered-about provision that requires college students to sign a loyalty oath before borrowing money from the federal government to finance their education.

In recent months the controversy has developed from the simmering stage to such a degree that several universities and colleges voiced their protest by dropping out of the program.

To sign or not to sign has suddenly replaced the cry for more government aid to education. Many college and university presidents sit like hunters in a duck blind, waiting for an opportunity to get a shot at the loyalty oath affidavit.

The American Council of Education a long time ago cleared its throat and sounded off, calling the oath provision "discriminatory, unfair, inappropriate, superfluous and ineffective," adding that it involves government interference with institutional affairs.

Meanwhile, many Wartburg students are benefiting, for the second consecutive year, from the loan act. No hesitation to sign the oath has been reported, and Pres. C. H. Becker says that the college has had no violent opposition to the loan program because of the loyalty oath.

The same situation exists on hundreds of other campuses in the country. While turbulent educators throw sticks and stones and legislatures play political football with the oath clause, the majority of the beneficiaries ride merrily along — because they realize that they are beneficiaries.

We feel that Congress is justified in requiring the signatures. The claim that the oath provision undermines human rights is false. Legislatures have made money available to college students as a privilege. It could hardly be classed as a right.

If the state is going to pay the piper, it most certainly has the right to name the tune.

Students' thoughts last week: Praise the Lord and pass the examination.

The groundhog failed to see his shadow last week. That's a sure sign the ugly snow and black leotards will disappear soon.

Rumor: The Christmas tree in front of the Union is going to be kept up for a while. With the limbs trimmed, it should make a good maypole.

The semester test operation is over, but the stitches still have to come out in the registrar's office.

Some of the trailer court men are complaining that someone slipped in a real marriage license for the Sadie Hawkins weekend dance.

After all the complaints, public and private, about cafeteria food, the grub actually seems to be improving. Hats off to Mrs. Grube and her staff, who by using their imagination in cooking, don't force the Student Body to use theirs in eating.

Plight of a Democrat: Being enrolled in Dr. Ottersberg's American History class.

Someone has finally figured out the reason why convocations are less interesting this year. Students miss the introductions of previous years.

Then a quick glance at the sparrows perched atop the beams of the gym, would soon tell one that convo is for the birds. They don't seem to be there during basketball games.

There is no justice. The Trumpet was forced to quit running cigarette advertising by the Board of Regents. Then the Alumni Association makes a big push on cigarette lighters, endorsed with the emblem of Wartburg College.

CAMPUS VOICES*Student Favors Higher Standard Over Expansion*To the Editor:

The 1959 Report of the president of Wartburg College, contained in the latest issue of the Wartburg Bulletin, includes a description of some of the recent distinctive achievements of the school. Among them was the upgrading of the faculty in recent years.

This improvement is reflected in a rise in the percentage of earned doctorates held by faculty members from 23 per cent in 1956 to 33 per cent at present.

Wartburg has teachers of whom it can be proud; and the quality of instruction, particularly in some areas, is quite probably equal to that at nearly any other college or university in the country.

However, one may well question whether the Student Body of Wartburg College has a level of academic ability and seriousness of academic purpose consistent with the aims of the college and the ideals of its faculty members.

If a discrepancy exists and is perpetuated in coming years, the college will be compromising its academic ideals in favor of expanded "growth" of the Student Body—a growth in numbers only.

A true growth of the college, I feel, would best be accomplished by closely limiting this growth in numbers. The college should raise its standard of admission and reject a significant number of the least qualified applicants each year.

Wartburg will be a stronger college in 1970 if it has a Student Body at that time made up of the best-qualified thousand of the 1,453 students expected. Wartburg cannot expect to rise above the norm of mediocrity of American higher education today unless it exercises selectivity in choosing its entering students.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Goetz.

THE WARTBURG TRUMPET
Saturday, February 6, 1960, Waverly, IowaIs Convo Gripe Justified?

New faces appear on campus. New classes dot the curriculum. Second semester, shining with newness, has begun. But on the first day of classes, students went automatically through an old routine. They went to convocation.

Gripe, gripe, grumble, grumble.

The convo tale of woe need not be retold here. It can be heard every Tuesday and Thursday. Attendance is compulsory, the seats are hard, the programs are poor. On and on it goes.

That the present convocation program needs improving was indicated at Thursday's Student Body meeting. The convocation committee is studying a number of proposed changes for next year.

But next year is next year. This is this year, and the complaints continue.

No matter how bad the programs are, however, each person, even the ones studying or writing letters, is benefited by going to convo. The solidarity of Wartburg is right there in convocation. At no other time are the Student Body, faculty and administration regularly gathered together.

The term "Wartburg Family" has picked up bad connotations, and yet the feeling basic to the term cannot be ignored. It is a good feeling, and it can be felt at convocation. It is the unseen benefit of the biweekly pilgrimage to the gymnasium. The gripes are not altogether justified.

Knight Rescues Book-less Coed*Dear Editor:

Thank you very much for printing my small article of plight in the Trumpet. It got results! Just this evening I was informed that the book was returned to the college library.

Somehow they made a mistake in notifying me that the book was overdue, because it has been collecting its share of dust since being returned on the date due, Jan. 6.

So, with that five-dollar bill back in my billfold, I wish to say thank you once more. And special recognition should go to the "Knight," who turned out to be one in shining armor!

Shaw Chorale Will Present Bach B Minor Mass Feb. 15

By Roger Schneider

Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra, an internationally known music group, will appear in the Bach "B Minor Mass" Feb. 15 in Knights Gymnasium. The final Artist Series presentation of the year is slated to begin at 8 p.m.

The concert will include an augmented ensemble of 75 musicians who are presenting, exclusively on tour, a mighty musical masterpiece, the first of its kind in American history.

Shaw Former Pre-The

Shaw, a native of California, abandoned his plans to enter the ministry for a career of directing choral groups and orchestras.

Among the groups Shaw has directed are the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Talents embodied in Shaw were discovered at an early date by Fred Waring, nationally known conductor who appeared on the Artist Series here earlier this season. Waring contacted Shaw while Waring's glee club was in California to appear in a film.

Shaw Connects With Waring

One year later, at the age of 22, Shaw found himself in New York conducting the Waring Glee Club five nights a week over the air.

Shaw made his New York concert debut in 1941 with his own group of choristers, an amateur organization called the Collegiate Chorale.

Seven years later, the present Robert Shaw Chorale came into existence. It has received world-wide acclaim, has made more than one-hundred records for RCA Victor and has become one of the most celebrated musical organizations in America.

Ensemble Can Solo

A remarkable feature of the group is the fact that every one of the 49 men and women participating in the performance can act as a soloist whenever solo passages appear in the score.

This fact testifies to the equal capabilities of the group, the members of which have received international recognition.

In 1956 the Shaw Chorale and Orchestra was invited by the President's Committee for International Exchange to represent American musical standards on a tour of the Middle East and Europe.

Music Goes To Score

The trip brought the 49 men and women, conductor Shaw and his wife to 20 countries, where they were graciously accepted.

The impression created by this organization is evidenced by the current negotiations for a return tour of Europe and the Middle East plus a tour of Russia.

Shaw's individual style of music making has become an integral part of the musical scene of today.

The general public may get tickets either at the college treasurer's office or by writing Dr. A. W. Swensen, Chairman of the Artist Series Committee, in care of the college.

Building Plans Set For Next 10 Years

Committee Also Lets Equipment Contract

By David Jensen

Wartburg Building Committee met Thursday and set up tentative development program for the period from 1960 to 1970.

The 10-year program will include a $600,000 addition to men's dormitory facilities, a $400,000 addition to women's dormitory facilities, a million dollar Science Building, an addition to Schield Stadium, an addition to Knights Gymnasium, an addition to the Student Union and an addition to the library which will consist entirely of classrooms. The total estimated cost of the entire program is $3,500,000.

Dr. C. H. Becker stated that the committee hoped for continued subsidy from the church. He also believed that the development program would furnish some of the financial support needed.

The committee adopted the program unanimously. It will now be presented to the Board of Higher Education when Dr. Becker attends the Board meeting Feb. 15, 16.

Dr. Becker also stated that a contract had been signed with Haldeman and Homme for stage equipment for the new chapel-auditorium. The contract includes a front curtain, an asbestos curtain and rigging for flats and hangs. The total contract cost is $14,700.

It was further decided to put asphalt tile on the entire floor instead of leaving it with the cement finish as originally planned.

A committee was appointed which includes Dr. Becker, the Rev. Martin Ackermann and the Rev. Herman Diers to make the final selection of the pulpit, lectern and altar. The choices will be made in the next week or ten days.

Staffer To N.J.

H. C. Engelbrecht, Wartburg business manager, is one of seven councilmen representing the American Lutheran Church at the 1960 meeting of the National Lutheran Council to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 2-5.

The National Lutheran Council will have as the main topic of discussion the coming merger of three Lutheran Church bodies. Engelbrecht is completing his fourth two-year term with the council.

Insurance Will Be Available Shortly

By Kathy Knuth

Accident and illness insurance will be available to Wartburg students during the middle of February as a result of a program adopted at the Student Senate meeting Feb. 1.

According to sophomore Bob Albers, chairman of the Student Welfare Committee, a policy has been drawn up by Higham, Neilson, Whitridge and Reid Inc. of Chicago to cover students on a year-round basis.

Accident costs will pay the first $500 and 75 per cent of the remainder up to $1,000. Medical expenses will be covered up to $250 and thereafter 75 per cent up to $1,000. Except for workman's compensation, the Chicago firm will duplicate any other policy or insurance the individual might have.

Yearly cost for this insurance will be $22.50.

"Since this year's insurance will be on a partial basis it will be about $10," stated Albers.

"Many times family policies run out on 18-year-olds, and therefore college students who believe they are still covered are not. We have been doing research on insurance since the early part of first semester, and the recent car accident involving a Wartburg student made us increasingly aware of the need for such a program," said Albers.

The insurance will not be mandatory and is completely separate from the regular Wartburg health service.

"We are just making something available for those who would like it," stated Albers. Development of the insurance program will continue.

"The fact that Wartburg has a good record in accident rate and health will be taken into consideration as far as premiums are concerned," Albers added. "This will mean one of two things—either more benefits for the student, or a lowering of the premium."

According to Albers, a program similar to this is now in use at Iowa State University in Ames and is working reasonably well.

Brochures will be distributed to students desiring information, and letters will be sent to parents notifying them of this program, according to Norm Litzner, Student Body president.

Senate Favors Start Of Discussion Groups On College Problems

Senate members at their meeting Feb. 1 voted in favor of the cabinet's organizing informal discussion groups.

These sessions, which tentatively are to be held on a monthly basis, will carry on discussions which the Student-Faculty Religious Activities Committee initiated, according to Norm Litzner, Student Body president.

Student and faculty problems will compose the topics. After being discussed, the problems will be relegated to committees for action.

The executive committee of the Senate met with organizational presidents for the purpose of presenting a new election procedure for their consideration.

After discussing the procedure, the group drew up a recommendation suggesting that elections of officers be held early in the second semester.

Hein Leads Knights Past Parsons 84-80; UIU Loses

Axmen Regain First By Slammering Luther

By Tom Kuckahn

Wartburg Knights climbed back into first place in the Iowa Conference basketball race last Saturday night when they defeated the Norsemen from Luther College, Decorah, 91-81.

The Knights, playing before one of the most enthusiastic crowds of the season, found themselves trailing at half-time 41-37.

The Axmen were a rejuvenated team in the second half as they outscored Luther 26-5 in the first eight minutes and came out victorious after withstanding a desperate full-court press executed by the Norsemen during the waning minutes of the contest.

Dean Holst, Bob Mueller and Kermit Urbain all saw considerable action as they probably will the rest of the season. John Mehlhaus and Leroy Boseneiler have withdrawn from school, Dar Oehlerich is scholastically ineligible and Dave Jensen is suffering with a sprained ankle.

Don Hein led the Knights in scoring with 26 points, and John Tuecke followed with 25. Marv Ott tallied 15 points while playing a good, all-around game.

Hassman, Tuecke Are W-Club Picks

Wartburg's W-Club met Thursday evening and selected Al Hassman as Athlete of the Month for January, according to president Chuck Nichol.

At a previous meeting John Tuecke was selected as Athlete of the Month for December.

Hassman, a sophomore from New Hampton, is undefeated so far this year in the 177 pound class of Coach Norm Johansen's wrestling squad. Al has only dropped one dual meet bout in his college career.

Tuecke, a senior from Gar-nerville, currently leads Coach Ax Bundgaard's hardcourt men in scoring and is shooting for the school record held by John Adix.

He is now sporting an average of better than 20 points a game in the Knights drive for their second consecutive Iowa Conference Basketball Championship.

IM Coeds Start Action And Bowling Pins Fall

No 300 games, but it was sure fun.

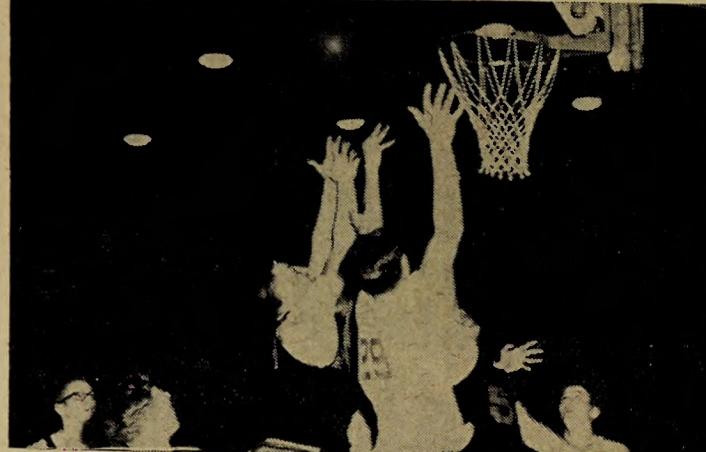

That was the general opinion after the first session of intramural co-ed bowling Jan. 30. Intramural bowling has been re-instated into the IM program, and it was well received as 40 students participated the first day.

Each team bowls two lines rather than the usual three, said Mary Jo Kaiser, co-head of intramural bowling, and action starts at 9 a.m. each Saturday.

Darrol Bauer had a 368 for two games to have the highest score for the boys. Bauer paced Team 7, captained by Bill Wachholz, in their 3-0 sweep over Dave Braunschweig's Team 8.

Don Ringgenberg's Team 2 got a good performance by Jan Wegenast, whose 293 topped the girl's scores, and won all three games from Team 1, headed by Roger Heins.

Grapplers Host Carleton At 2 P.M. In Sixth Meet

By Don Bathgate

Wartburg's matmen will play host to Carleton College this afternoon as they enter their sixth meet of the season at 2 p.m. in Knights Gym.

Carleton, coached by Jim Nelson, is led by standout junior Chuck Severn in the 130-pound class. He managed a conference first in the 123 weight division for Carleton last year.

According to Coach Norm Johansen, the starting lineup for the Knights this afternoon will be Lloyd Casey at 123, John Sternberg at 180 and Bill Smith at 137.

Jim Mueller will again be at the 147-pound division and Don Ringgenberg will replace Rod Hubbard at 157.

Rog Hildebrandt will remain at 167 with Al Hassman at 177. LeRoy Scharnhorst will still be holding down the heavyweight division.

Carleton, who is just getting its season started, met Grinnell last night.

Next Wednesday the Knights take to the road and travel to Cedar Rapids, where they will tangle with Coe College.

Last Saturday they were in Dubuque, where they dropped a 16-13 decision to Dubuque University. With everything tied up going into the final bout, Dubuque's Chuck Snook edged LeRoy Scharnhorst 4-3, giving Dubuque a 16-13 win.

Al Hassman fared better as he out-pointed Dubuque's Don Carten 6-1. Rog Hildebrandt lost his bout to John Brown by a 4-2 count.

Rod Hubbard found competition in the 157 weight division pretty tough, as he was pinned by Jim Fox in 2 minutes 50 seconds.

Wartburg's Jim Mueller turned the tables in the 147 class, showing the lights to Dighie Willard in 4 minutes 48 seconds.

Bill Smith had it easy going as he racked up a 9-1 decision over Jim Harris in the 137-pound class.

Dubuque's Sam Limperies came up with a point for riding time in the final period to give him a tie with the Knights' John Sternberg at 3-3.

Lloyd Casey dropped the first bout of the afternoon to Ron Moon 5-0 in the 123 division.

The Knights' next home meet is Saturday, Feb. 13, when they entertain powerful South Dakota State.

Squad Moves On To I. Wesleyan Tonight

FAIRFIELD — Brilliant second-half shooting by sophomore Don Hein enabled the Wartburg Knights to put down a determined Parsons team here last night, 84-80.

The victory lifted the Knights into top spot in Iowa Conference standings. While Coach Ax Bundgaard's quintet was subduing the Wildcats, co-leader Upper Iowa University took a 89-66 sock on the chin at Central.

Tuecke Chips In

Hein, who tallied 26 times in his last outing against Luther, whipped in 21 points in the second half to help the Knights overcome a 39-35 Wildcat half-time advantage. Center John Tuecke rode shotgun to Hein in the second half surge, tossing in 14 counters and ending the tussle with 23 behind his name.

Coach O. B. Nelson's Parson club had won eight out of their last ten games. They outshot the Knights from the field in the first half 47% to 37%. Some deadly shooting by guard Marv Ott kept Ax Bundgaard's team within striking distance during the first half. Ott finished with 17 markers.

Rebounds Swing Tide

Parsons rang up 47% of their shot attempts for the entire game, while the Knights took aim at the hoop 76 times and dropped 29 of them for a 38% average. Wartburg carved a big niche in the rebound charts though, pulling 51 off the boards, while the Wildcats could salvage but 30.

Tom Hawkins led Nelson's balanced scoring line-up with 24 points. Hein finished the skirmish with 30 to pace Wartburg.

Tonight, Bundgaard loads his charges in the bus and moves them down the road to Mt. Pleasant where they will tangle with Iowa Wesleyan Tigers in the second stop of the two-day roadtrip.

Wartburg will be seeking to improve its 8-1 conference record. The Knights soundly whipped Wesleyan here before Christmas, but don't expect the test to be as easy tonight.

Director To Select

Dr. Ax Bundgaard, Wartburg Athletic Director, has recently been asked to serve on National Collegiate Athletic Association Selection Committee.

Wartburg decided this year to discontinue its association with the NAIA in favor of the NCAA. Wartburg basketball teams have participated in three consecutive NCAA post-season tournaments.
